THE VOICE FOR NURSING EDUCATION

Dedicated to excellence in nursing, the National League for Nursing is the premier organization for nurse faculty and leaders in nursing education offering professional development, networking opportunities, testing services, nursing research grants, and public policy initiatives to its 34,000 individual and 1,200 institutional members.

Debra L. Spunt
DNP, RN, FAAN

“A commitment to excellence in nursing education”

“Deb has contributed greatly, not only to the University of Maryland School of Nursing, and the area of simulation, but to excellence in nursing education in general.”

Debra L. Spunt
Laerdal Medical AS
Dedicated to excellence in nursing, the National League for Nursing is the premier organization for nurse faculty and leaders in nursing education offering professional development, networking opportunities, testing services, nursing research grants, and public policy initiatives to its 34,000 individual and 1,200 institutional members.

Deb has contributed greatly, not only to the University of Maryland School of Nursing, and the area of simulation, but to excellence in nursing education in general.

Tore Laerdal
Laerdal Medical AS
Debra L. Spunt, DNP, RN, FAAN, an assistant professor and director of the clinical simulation laboratories at the University of Maryland School of Nursing, died of cancer on March 9, 2007. Born in St. Louis, MO in 1956, Debbie was a resident of Maryland for more than 30 years, graduating from Randallstown High School in 1975. She earned a bachelor of science in nursing (1979), a master’s of science (1983), and a doctor of nursing practice (2007), all from the University of Maryland School of Nursing.

Debbie was nationally and internationally recognized for her knowledge, expertise, and leadership in clinical simulation, especially the use of computerized human patient simulators via clinical case scenarios to educate nurses and other health care providers. She was responsible for the design, administration, and management of the School of Nursing’s 28 clinical simulation laboratories, considered the preeminent nursing student learning labs in the world. In this role, she collaborated with faculty on the integration of simulation into the nursing curriculum, and in doing so, helped prepare thousands of nurses worldwide.

Debbie was a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing, and a member of the American Nurses Association, the Maryland Nurses Association, the National League for Nursing, the Maryland League for Nursing, and Sigma Theta Tau, the International Honor Society of Nursing. She co-founded the International Nursing Association for Clinical Simulation and Learning and served as its first president.

As a thoughtful participant in the plans for her legacy, Debbie created the Debra L. Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment at the University of Maryland School of Nursing. This endowment supports the use of clinical simulation laboratory equipment. We ask you to join us in celebrating Debbie’s life and honoring her legacy by contributing to the Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment.

To make a secure online gift to benefit the Spunt Endowment, please visit our website: www.nursing.giving.umaryland.edu. Please make sure to note Spunt Endowment in the “Specific Instructions” section as you make your online credit card gift.

Funds for the Spunt Endowment are administered by the University of Maryland Baltimore Foundation, Inc. (UMBF).
Debra L. Spunt, DNP, RN, FAAN, an assistant professor and director of the clinical simulation laboratories at the University of Maryland School of Nursing, died of cancer on March 9, 2007. Born in St. Louis, MO in 1956, Debbie was a resident of Maryland for more than 30 years, graduating from Randallstown High School in 1975. She earned a bachelor of science in nursing (1979), a master’s of science (1983), and a doctor of nursing practice (2007), all from the University of Maryland School of Nursing.

Debbie was nationally and internationally recognized for her knowledge, expertise, and leadership in clinical simulation, especially the use of computerized human patient simulators via clinical case scenarios to educate nurses and other health care providers. She was responsible for the design, administration, and management of the School of Nursing’s 28 clinical simulation laboratories, considered the preeminent nursing student learning labs in the world. In this role, she collaborated with faculty on the integration of simulation into the nursing curriculum, and in doing so, helped prepare thousands of nurses worldwide.

Debbie was a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing, and a member of the American Nurses Association, the Maryland Nurses Association, the National League for Nursing, the Maryland League for Nursing, and Sigma Theta Tau, the International Honor Society of Nursing. She co-founded the International Nursing Association for Clinical Simulation and Learning and served as its first president.

As a thoughtful participant in the plans for her legacy, Debbie created the Debra L. Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment at the University of Maryland School of Nursing. This endowment supports the use of clinical simulation laboratory equipment. We ask you to join us in celebrating Debbie’s life and honoring her legacy by contributing to the Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment.

To make a secure online gift to benefit the Spunt Endowment, please visit our website: www.nursing.giving.umaryland.edu. Please make sure to note Spunt Endowment in the “Specific Instructions” section as you make your online credit card gift.

Funds for the Spunt Endowment are administered by the University of Maryland Baltimore Foundation, Inc. (UMBFI).
Debra L. Spunt, DNP, RN, FAAN, an assistant professor and director of the clinical simulation laboratories at the University of Maryland School of Nursing, died of cancer on March 9, 2007. Born in St. Louis, MO in 1956, Debbie was a resident of Maryland for more than 30 years, graduating from Randallstown High School in 1975. She earned a bachelor of science in nursing (1979), a master’s of science (1983), and a doctor of nursing practice (2007), all from the University of Maryland School of Nursing.

Debbie was nationally and internationally recognized for her knowledge, expertise, and leadership in clinical simulation, especially the use of computerized human patient simulators via clinical case scenarios to educate nurses and other health care providers. She was responsible for the design, administration, and management of the School of Nursing’s 28 clinical simulation laboratories, considered the preeminent nursing student learning labs in the world. In this role, she collaborated with faculty on the integration of simulation into the nursing curriculum, and in doing so, helped prepare thousands of nurses worldwide.

Debbie was a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing, and a member of the American Nurses Association, the Maryland Nurses Association, the National League for Nursing, the Maryland League for Nursing, and Sigma Theta Tau, the International Honor Society of Nursing. She co-founded the International Nursing Association for Clinical Simulation and Learning and served as its first president.

As a thoughtful participant in the plans for her legacy, Debbie created the Debra L. Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment at the University of Maryland School of Nursing. This endowment supports the use of clinical simulation laboratory equipment. We ask you to join us in celebrating Debbie’s life and honoring her legacy by contributing to the Spunt Clinical Simulation Practice and Research Endowment.

2011 DEBRA L. SPUNT LECTURE

Leadership in Simulation: Looking Back, Looking Forward

On the occasion of the five-year anniversary of the Debra L. Spunt Lecture, the four previous presenters, all leaders in nursing education and simulation, will summarize advances in simulation development and research and explore future directives and challenges in a panel presentation.

Debra L. Spunt
DNP, RN, FAAN
Director,
Clinical Simulation Laboratories,
University of Maryland School of Nursing

A TRUE INSPIRATION

A SYMBOL OF LEADERSHIP

In appreciation for her leadership in the design, development, and implementation of simulation in nursing education, The NLN Foundation for Nursing Education and Laerdal Medical Corporation establish the DEBRA L. SPUNT LECTURE

CONTRIBUTIONS MAY BE MADE PAYABLE TO “UMBF/SPUNT ENDOWMENT” AND SENT TO:
The University of Maryland School of Nursing
Office of Development, Room 217
655 West Lombard Street
Baltimore, MD 21201-1579

To make a secure online gift to benefit the Spunt Endowment, please visit our website: www.nursing.giving.umaryland.edu. Please make sure to list Spunt Endowment in the “Specific Instructions” section as you make your online credit gift.

Funds for the Spunt Endowment are administered by the University of Maryland Baltimore Foundation, Inc. (UMBF).

Leadership in Simulation:
Looking Back, Looking Forward

Debra L. Spunt LECTURE

PAMELA JEFFRIES
PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF, Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing

JANET L. GRADY
DrPH, RN, FAAN, ANEF, University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown

SHARON DЕCKЕR
PhD, RN, ACNS-BC, ANEF, Texas Tech University

SUZAN KARDONG-EDGREN
PhD, RN, ANEF, Washington State University

Leadership in Simulation:
Looking Back, Looking Forward

Debra L. Spunt LECTURE

PAMELA JEFFRIES
PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF, Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing

JANET L. GRADY
DrPH, RN, FAAN, ANEF, University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown

SHARON DЕCKЕR
PhD, RN, ACNS-BC, ANEF, Texas Tech University

SUZAN KARDONG-EDGREN
PhD, RN, ANEF, Washington State University

Leadership in Simulation:
Looking Back, Looking Forward

Debra L. Spunt LECTURE

PAMELA JEFFRIES
PhD, RN, FAAN, ANEF, Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing

JANET L. GRADY
DrPH, RN, FAAN, ANEF, University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown

SHARON DЕCKЕR
PhD, RN, ACNS-BC, ANEF, Texas Tech University

SUZAN KARDONG-EDGREN
PhD, RN, ANEF, Washington State University
THE VOICE FOR NURSING EDUCATION

Dedicated to excellence in nursing, the National League for Nursing is the premier organization for nurse faculty and leaders in nursing education offering professional development, networking opportunities, testing services, nursing research grants, and public policy initiatives to its 34,000 individual and 1,200 institutional members.

Debra L. Spunt
DNP, RN, FAAN

“Deb has contributed greatly, not only to the University of Maryland School of Nursing, and the area of simulation, but to excellence in nursing education in general.”

Tara Lautert
Laerdal Medical AS

©2011 National League for Nursing. All Rights Reserved. Printed in the U.S.A. #11-11355